Mr. Andrew MacKinlay (Left) with the Governor of the Ida-Virumaa Region, Mr. Rein Aidmaa (middle) and the Head of the OSCE Mission to Estonia, Ambassador Doris Hertrampf.

From 6-8 December 2001, nine Members of the OSCE PA took part in a three-day visit to the OSCE Missions to Latvia and Estonia.

This was the first visit of a new initiative of the OSCE PA to visit OSCE field presences in order to better understand the work of the OSCE and to determine ways in which the OSCE PA can better contribute to the work of the OSCE in the field. It was decided to organize the first such visit to Latvia and Estonia since the mandates of these Missions may be determined to be fulfilled by the end of the year. Closure of these two Missions on the basis of successful fulfillment of mandates would be a precedent for the Organization.

The Delegation was headed by Mr. Andrew MacKinlay (United Kingdom) and included Ms. Anastasia Moser (Bulgaria), Mr. Nesrin Uzun (Bulgaria), Mr. Petr Sulak (Czech Republic), Mr. Jiri Karas (Czech Republic), Mr. Giovanni Kessler (Italy), Mr. Guglielmo Castagnetti (Italy), Mr. Antonio Reis (Portugal), and Mr. Tom Cox (United Kingdom).

According to Mr. MacKinlay, the visit provided the Delegation the opportunity to become aware of the sensitive debates currently taking place in Latvia and Estonia regarding the future of the OSCE Missions.

In Riga on 6 December, the Delegation was first briefed by Ambassador Peter Semneby, Head of Mission. The programme also included meetings with the Deputy Speaker of Parliament, Members of the Latvian Delegation to the OSCE PA, as well as representatives of the Naturalization Board, the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Ministry of Justice, Ministry of Interior and civil society representatives, all of whom have been working in close co-operation with the Mission. While the meetings generally reflected the impressive progress made by the Latvian government since 1991, the Delegation was also made aware of some concerns by the Russian-speaking minority during a meeting with Russian-speaking MPs and with the Deputy Mayor of Riga.

The Mission to Latvia welcomed the opportunity to introduce Members of Parliament to the work of the Mission and were appreciative of the support of the OSCE PA for the efforts undertaken by the Mission in the field of social integration.

The Delegation travelled to Tallinn on 7 December for the continuation of the programme, which included a briefing by Ambassador Doris Hertrampf, Head of Mission, and Mission staff. The Delegation also met with Members of the Estonian Delegation to the OSCE PA, the Minister of Population Affairs and Ethnic Issues, as well as representatives of the Foreign Ministry and the Russian-speaking and other minorities.

On 8 December, the Delegation also travelled to the Ida-Virumaa Region of Estonia, in the northeast of the country, in which the Russian-speaking community makes up 80 percent of the population. In Jõhvi, the location of the regional government, the Delegation met with Mr. Rein Aidmaa, the Governor of the Region. The Delegation then traveled to Narva, the easternmost Estonian city on the border with the Russian Federation and composed of 96 percent Russian-speakers. There, the Delegation met with the Mayor of Narva, Members of the Narva City Council, as well as with representatives of civil society and the Director of Narva College.

According to the Mission in Estonia, the visit was a welcome and timely sign of the interest devoted by the OSCE PA to minority issues and the work of the field missions. The Mission regarded this as an encouragement of the work that had been achieved since the Mission began its work in Estonia in the spring of 1993.
